Florida Joins The USA

The "Act of Transfer", that moment when Spain gave possession of Florida to the United States, will be re-enacted on Saturday, July 10, at 11am. The ceremony will take place in front of the Governor's House Museum. There you will see Spanish and United States Troops, dignitaries, and townspeople all dressed as they would have been in 1821.

Declarations will be made, documents will be signed and keys to the City will be exchanged, all for the delight of the viewing public. Then the public will be allowed to march behind the living history interpreters to the Florida National Guard Parade Grounds on Marine Street. There the "Change of Flags" ceremony will take place and will include cannon and musket firing. This will be a spectacular, once-in-a-lifetime event you surely you won't want to miss.
